FEDERAL PROGRAMS PROVIDING FUNDS OR SERVICES TO PREVENT HOMELESSNESS AMONG FAMILIES WITH AT-RISK CHILDREN

INTRODUCTION

The Department of Health and Human Services prepared this report to the Congress containing a list and summary information on approximately 170 Federal programs that can help to prevent homelessness among families with at-risk children.

Requirement

Section 661 of the Stewart B. McKinney Homeless Assistance Amendments of 1990 (Public Law 101-645) requires that the Secretary of Health and Human Services (HHS) submit to the Congress a list of federal programs that provide services or fund grants, contracts, or cooperative agreements for the provision of services directed to the prevention of homelessness for families whose children are at risk of out of home placement and child abuse that may be associated with homelessness. The report is to be sent to the Committee on Education and Labor of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Labor and Human Resources of the Senate. It is also to be prepared in consultation with the Secretaries of Education, Housing and Urban Development and Labor.

In addition to services programs, the list is required to include programs providing:

- (A) rent, utility, and other subsidies;
- (B) training; and
- (C) for interagency coordination at the local and stat8 and federal level.

For each program, the list is required to include a description of:

- the appropriate citation for the authority for each program;
- entities that are eligible to participate in each program;
- authorization levels, and the annual amounts appropriated for each fiscal year in which these programs were authorized;
- the agencies and divisions administering each program;

- the expiration date of the authority of each program; and
- to the extent available, the degree to which housing assistance can be accessed by child welfare and other appropriate agencies.

Approach

The scope of the information required by the statute is very broad. In addition to descriptions of programs targeted specifically to prevent homelessness and address family crises that frequently result in child abuse, neglect, and out-of-home placements, the requirement logically includes the broad range of Federal programs that can work to prevent such problems by providing services and income support to low-income families with at-risk children.

After careful consideration and consultation with congressional committee staff in both the House and the Senate, the Department decided to develop a list containing two categories of programs. Part I includes those programs targeted specifically at stabilizing homeless children and their families or preventing homelessness, out of home placements, and child abuse and neglect. Part II includes income support and services programs that can help address these problems. This category includes programs specifically for children as well as for their families. Since the first category contains the programs most directly targeted at homelessness, child welfare, and child abuse and neglect, their descriptions are expanded to provide more detailed information on their activities. The programs in the second category are broader in purpose and provide general support to low-income family members that may prevent the family from severe problems such as unemployment or substance abuse that could result in the loss of their home. These are described in sufficient detail to indicate how the program supports members of low income families more broadly. The list of programs follows. The programs appear alphabetically within each category. As indicated above, we have taken a fairly broad view in including programs for category II, assuming that it is better to include than to omit resources, that can support low-income families and their at-risk children. Responses to two of the information categories identified in the statute warrant explanation:

Housing Assistance Authority

Where this authority exists, we so indicate under the heading but describe it within the program purpose section.

Authorization levels, and the annual amounts appropriated for each fiscal year in which these programs were authorized

Appropriations for FY 1990 and FY 1991 are provided. The amounts requested in the President's Budget for FY 1992 are also provided.

PURPOSE: The goal of this program is to facilitate the placement of hard to place children in permanent adoptive homes and thus prevent inappropriate stays in foster care. Although the Administration on Children, Youth and Families' policy is to prevent family dissolution whenever possible, it is sometimes necessary and advisable to seek permanent placement for children outside the biological family. Funds are also used for the administrative costs of managing the program and training staff.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS:

Beneficiary Eligibility: Beneficiaries are children who: (1) are AFDC, AFDC-FC, or SSI recipients or are eligible for AFDC, AFDGFC, or SSI; and (2) have special needs, e.g., a handicap, which makes it reasonable to conclude that they cannot be adopted without adoption assistance. Federal Financial Participation (FFP) is available from the time of placement for adoption in accordance with state and local law or final adoption decree to age 18 (21 if the state finds that a handicap means aid should continue) so long as the parent supports the child. No child adopted before the state is operating under its IV-E plan is eligible for FFP. No means test applies to adopting parents, but the amount of aid is agreed to by agency and parents and may be readjusted by joint agreement.

PURPOSE: To provide comprehensive health, educational, nutritional, social and other services primarily to economically disadvantaged preschool children, including Indian children on federally-recognized reservations, and children of migratory workers and their families; and to involve parents in activities with their children so that the children will attain overall social competence. The Head Start program is intended to strengthen the abilities of the disadvantaged child to succeed in school and later life.

Most Head Start grantees operate a part-day program which may be either four or five days per week for less than six hours a day. There usually will be a minimum of 130 days of planned classroom operations per year including two home visits annually. A few Head Start grantees operate a full-day program for five days a week, six or more hours per day. A number of Head Start grantees operate home-based programs which usually have a minimum of one planned home visit each week and two planned group sessions for children each month.

Head Start is exploring other ways to serve their participants. Two such initiatives are the Family Services Centers and the Parent and Child Centers.

Other smaller Family Support Project grants are made for Head Start grantees to focus on the problem of substance abuse or another specific problem, identified by the grantee, which threatens self-sufficiency.

Head Start Parent and Child Centers (PCCs) Parent and Child Centers are early childhood intervention programs which serve low-income children 0-3 years of age, their families and pregnant women. The program aims to strengthen family units by providing opportunities for improving parents' child development skills and knowledge. Children are provided with comprehensive services (social, health, and education). Currently, there are 37 PCCs in 27 states, serving 4,500 children and families.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS:

Beneficiary Eligibility: Head Start programs are primarily for children from age 3 up to the age when the child enters the school system, but may include some younger children. ## Section B. INCOME ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

AID TO FAMILIES WITH DEPENDENT CHILDREN-PAYMENTS TO STATES

SHORT TITLE: AFDC

FEDERAL AGENCY: Administration for Children and Families, Department of Health and Human Services

AUTHORIZATION: Social Security Act, Titles I, IV-A, X,XI,XIV and XVI and the Act of July 5, 1960 (24 U.S.C. Ch 9)

AUTHORIZATION FY 1991: Indefinite

AUTHORITY FOR HOUSING ASSISTANCE: (see below)

APPROPRIATIONS FY 1990: $ 11.5 billion
 FY 1991: $ 12.9 billion (estimate)
 FY 1992: $ 14.0 billion (estimate)

TYPES OF ASSISTANCE: Formula grants

PURPOSE: To provide cash benefits to families in which a needy child has been deprived of parental support because of the death, incapacitation, continued absence, or unemployment of a parent. In addition to assistance for items in the AFDC standard of need (e.g., food, shelter, and clothing) some States provide assistance for special need items (e.g., transportation expenses, child care costs, special diets, and shelter for the homeless), as well. States allocate their AFDC funds to standard and special needs pursuant to their own State plans.

As of October 1990, 10 States (California, Connecticut, Hawaii, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan, New York, Rhode Island, New Jersey, and Washington) and one territory (The Virgin Islands) use AFDC special needs (SN) allowances to shelter families who are homeless or at risk. In some cases, these special needs allowances are considerably larger than shelter allowances in the basic AFDC grant, but overall cost data on State expenditures for special needs items are unavailable. The AFDC Program does not require homelessness expenditures to be reported separately from other AFDC expenditures; however, since January 1990 HHS has required that States make quarterly reports on any funds expended under Title IV-A to provide temporary housing.

Family Support Act and AFDC. In 1988, Congress enacted the Family Support Act, which established the Job Opportunities and Basic Skills (JOBS) program to ensure that needy families with children obtain the education, training, and employment necessary to avoid long-term welfare dependence. JOBS programs must include educational activities, job skills training, job readiness activities to help prepare participants for work, job development, and job placement services. In addition, two of the following four options must be provided: job search services, community work experience, work supplementation, or on-the-job training. Participants who earn their way off welfare will be entitled to an additional twelve month's of child care and Medicaid. If there is a JOBS program in their area, all non-exempt AFDC participants who have child care must participate to the extent that resources allow. Exemptions are allowed for those who are ill, incapacitated, or advanced age, needed at home to care for another, already working 30 hours per week or more, under age 16 or a full time student.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS:

Applicant Eligibility: State and local welfare agencies must operate under Department of Health and Human Services (HHS)-approved state plans and must comply with all federal regulations governing aid and assistance to needy families with dependent children, and aid to needy aged, blind or permanently and totally disabled persons in Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, and assistance to U.S. citizens under the Repatriation Program.

Beneficiary Eligibility: Needy families with dependent children deprived of parental support or care, and families with children needing emergency welfare assistance; former AFDC recipients who lost eligibility due to increased hours of work or income, or expiration of time-limited earned income disregards; aged, blind or permanently and totally disabled persons in Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, and U.S. citizens and certified Nationals.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS:

Applicant Eligibility: A disabled worker under age 65 is eligible for Social Security disability benefits if he or she has worked for a sufficient period of time under Social Security to be insured. The insured status requirements depend upon the age of the applicant and the date he or she became disabled. Coverage credits under the social security systems of certain foreign countries with which the U.S. has reciprocal agreements may be taken into account to meet the requirements. Certain family members of disabled workers also are eligible for benefits: (1) unmarried children under age 18, or under age 19 for students in elementary or secondary school; (2) unmarried adult offspring at any age if disabled before age 22; (3) wife or husband at any age if child in his or her care is receiving benefits on worker's Social Security record and is under age 16 or disabled; and (4) spouse age 62 or over. For workers who are first eligible after 1985 for both (1) a pension based on non-covered employment; and (2) Social Security disability (or retirement) benefits, a less generous benefit formula applies. In addition, Social Security disability benefits are reduced (offset) by the amount that the sum of all disability benefits payable under Social Security and certain Federal, state, or local public disability and workers' compensation laws or plans exceeds the higher of 80 percent of the worker's average current earnings or the total Social Security benefit that would otherwise be payable on the disabled worker's record. The Social Security benefit for a spouse of a disabled worker is subject to a pension offset if the spouse receives a governmental pension based on his or her own work in non-covered employment. However, the offset does not apply if: (1) the person received or became eligible to receive the pension before December 1, 1982, and can meet eligibility requirements for Social Security auxiliaries' benefits as they existed in January 1977; or (2) if the person received, or was eligible to receive, the pension before July 1, 1983, and the person was dependent on his or her spouse for at least one-half support at the time the spouse died, became disabled or became entitled to Social Security benefits. The amount of the public pension used for purposes of the offset against Social Security spouse's benefits is equal to two-thirds of the public pension. The Social Security benefit for the spouse of a disabled worker is also offset dollar for dollar by the amount of any Social Security benefit the spouse receives based on his or her own work.

Beneficiary Eligibility: Qualified disabled workers under age 65 and widows, widowers, and surviving divorced spouses under age 60. Under the definition of disability in the Social Security law, disability benefits are provided to a person who is unable to engage in any substantial gainful activity by reason of a medically determinable physical or mental impairment that has lasted or is expected to last at least 12 months, or to result in death. (Prior to January 1, 1991 widows, widowers and surviving divorced spouses must have a medically determinable physical or mental impairment of a level of severity which under regulations prescribed by the Secretary is deemed to be sufficient to preclude an individual from engaging in gainful activity.) Felony-related impairments and confinement-related impairments cannot be considered in determining whether an individual is under a disability if the individual has been convicted of a felony which was committed after October 19, 1980.
